Important Reduction in Passenger Rates Over the Pennsylvania Rail-

Following up the reduction made in through passenger rates between New York and Pittsburg, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company announce the issue, on and after to-dey, of ten days' excursion tickets between New York and Washington at a rate of $10, and between New York and Baltimore at a rate of $8. Five-day excursion tickets will also be sold between New York and Wilmington, Del., at a rate of $5. This reduction is not only in the line of that polley which seeks to foster the growth of business whenever it shows a tendency toward improvement, but is also a further step toward disarming the ticket scalpers, who have been dealing in tickets between these important cities. A stopover will be allowed on all of these tickets at Philadelphia; also at Baltimore on those issued between New York and Washington. The issue on excursion tickets will not be restricted to New York, but will extend to all the more important stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad system.

REGILDING at Veerhoff's, 916 and 411

The sharm of fire at 8:30 o'clock last right was coused by the burning of a frame stable in the rear of 1535 Thirty-second street, owned by James Paine. Damage, $150. MR. R. L. DEACHES reports that he was assaulted by five men last Monday night as he got off the last car at Pennsylvania ave-nue and Twenty-second street. He claims that one of the men drew a kuife.

cuted.

At the annual meeting of the trustees of All Souls' Church last night, Justice William A. Richardson, George A. King, John R. Gisburne and Dr. T. H. Sherwood were elected trustees to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Justice S. F. Miller, B. R. Green, S. R. Bond and Dorman B. Eaton, William J. Canby was elected secretary and Dr. George N. French treasurer.

esembled at the Grand Opera-House last evening to see the American Opera Com-pany in "The Marriage of Jeannette" and the ballet of "Sylvia." Masse's little opera was certainly highly enjoyable. and Mile. L'Allemand as Jennette endowed these two roles with such grace and sprightliness, that at no time did the performance drag. The former was the Ideal gay French peasant, while Mile. L'Allemand repeatedly aroused the enthusiasm of the audience by her piquant acting and her exquisite singing. Miss Kate Oceterle as Pierre gave a delightful representation of a merry lad, full of 'Sylvia' introduced some exceedingly graceful dancing, but nothing as elaborate as some of the Kiralfys' productions. While the American public is pretty familiar with the dances of the ballet, yet the ballet liself is almost unknown in this country, and it is doubtful if the majority of theatre-goers can appreciate such a performance, however vociferously they may applaud it. The ballet certainly demonstrated the admirable training to which the pupils of the ballet school have been subject, as well as the remarkable aptness of the papils in acquiring such procision and grace of movement.

The performance of Wagner's most popular opera, "The Flying Dutchman," at Albaugh's Opera-House to-night, will close the brief and most enjoyable season of American opera. Those who have not seen the most complete and beautiful performances of this great organization should certainly not miss the last opportunity this evening. Mr. Theodore Thomas will personally conduct the performance, and this is at least a guarantee that Wagner's score will be rendered in masterly fashion by Mr. Thomas' unrivalled orchestra under the baton of their inspired leader. The cast is undeniably strong. Emma Juch, who was heard with so much delight in "Orpheus and Eurydice," will be the Scata, and reports place this as one of her greatest roles, beautiful in vocal treatment and an ideal Scata in appearance and dramatic conception of the part. Myron William Ludwig, a magnificent barrione, will make his washington debut as The Dutchman. Helen Dudley Campbell, William I. Fessenden, the popular and sweet-voiced tenor, and George Appleby will also be in the cast. The whole Begging in the Departments.

EDITOR CRITIC: Allow one of many of the employes of the Government Printing Office to enter a protest against the numerous petitions begging for this person or that cause going the rounds of the employes every month. To these petitions nost every one is expected to contribute. A great many cannot afford to subscribe, and only do so to avoid the stigma of being called "mean." They are all, of course, for "worthy objects." but when or where will these stop? They go on increasing monthly. Probably in no other bureau of the Government does any set of employes have a "voluntary" subscription paper thrust before them as often as these do. Only the other day it was for flowers for a burial, as the relatives were too poor to purchase them. If they were too poor to make thinks it would have been better to donate this money for the solid necessaries of life. Many give who have small salaries and cannot afford it, but simply do so on account of others doing it. Would it not be a proper thing for the Government Printer to put a stop to this kind of begging. If I am not greatly mistaken this sort of thing is prohibited in the other departments, and if it is done at all it is certainly done very quietly.

Annual May Ball. Begging in the Departments.

The annual May ball given by Professor Proctor at his academy at Seventh and L Proctor at his academy at Seventh and L streets last evening was the most delightful he has yet given. The hall was decorated elaborately with garlands and flags. A large audience was present, and the little lads and lassies who executed the fancy dances did remarkably well. Miss Marian Proctor was the excelsior; Miss Natalie-Waither, May queen; Miss Fannie Sincell, queen of flowers; Miss Carrie Miller; quoen of dancing. After the fancy dances the adult friends of the pupils enjoyed dancing to a late hour. The entertainment was under the efficient management of Mr. N. B. Parks.
